Because Faculty Wouldn't Allow Gompers to Address Them. Philadelphia, March 5.-More than 00 University of Pennsylvania stu-ents today formed a free speech society and empowered a committee to draw resolutions denouncing the au-thorities of the institution and those in charge of the Pennsylvanian, a daily student publication, because of the alleged attitude of the authorities and the Pennsylvanian toward Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor. The action was taken at a meeting of the students held in Knights of Columbus hall which was addressed by Mr. Gompers.

The resolution, which it is planned to present for formal adoption at another meeting tomorrow, censures the members of the faculty for refusing to permit Mr. Gompers to speak in one of the halls of the university and crit-icizes the editors of the student publi-cation for refusing to announce today's meeting in the columns of the Penn sylvanian. After effecting permanent organization, the students announced that stated meetings would be held and speakers in all walks of life invited to deliver addresses.

Mr. Gompers, although he denounced the university authorities for their ac-tion, made no attempt to urge the stu-dents to revolt. Most of his address was devoted to the evolution of organ-ized labor and he left the hall before the heated addresses were made by the students.
